

Introducing Fleetguard Access Online Availability

Fleetguard Access

In order to better serve our customers, registered Fleetguard Access users will now have the option to view product availability online through the Fleetguard Access Order Management Inquiry on cumminsfiltration.com. The new product availability feature was added specifically to address customer feedback. This exciting addition allows our registered users to quickly check availability from the convenience of their own computers. Our customers are able to manage their product orders better and spend less time on the telephone.

The new product availability feature is sure to make ordering Fleetguard products even easier. We hope you will check back often to visit Fleetguard Access and all the other great features available to you on cumminsfiltration.com.

If you are new to Fleetguard Access, please register at cumminsfiltration.com to gain access to the new product availability along with order and shipment information, packing slips, and shipment tracking.

If you have questions or need additional information about the new functionality, please contact your Customer Assistance or your Cummins Filtration Sales Representative. We are available to serve you 24 hours a day.
